

Scarborough Camera Club are delighted to announce that Alison Taylor will be giving a talk entitled 'Seascape Photography' at 7.30pm on Wednesday 22nd September 2021.

After giving up international lacrosse and other sporting activities, Alison continued to take walking holidays. Her photography became more serious after acquiring a DSLR, taking more time over the taking of photos. She has developed a deeper interest in the use of textures, light and long exposures in landscapes. She is particularly passionate about the coast, which is the subject of this talk. Examples of her work can be seen at

<https://alisontaylorphotography.org>

Visitors and members of other clubs are welcome to attend the Zoom meeting (£3 per person). Places can be booked at www.scarboroughcameraclub.co.uk after initially making an email enquiry at scarcameraclub@gmail.com

